

FIG. 99 SOLDIER COURSES

A true soldier brick is 248mm long which is the same dimension as three rows of bricks. They are rarely used and are very expensive to manufacture as hand setting is required.

Any brick laid vertically is called a soldier and in most cases being 230mm long does not present a problem. In some circumstances the length will need to be reduced.

Where to use Soldier Courses:

